

Policy for the recruitment of ex-offenders

KJV Community Children's Choir

Registered Charity No: 1198653

In the following, KJV refers to KJV Community Children's Choir, which is Registered Charitable Incorporated Organisation 1198653.

As an organisation assessing applicants' suitability for positions which are included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order using criminal record checks processed through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS), KJV complies fully with the code of practice and undertakes to treat all applicants for positions fairly.

KJV undertakes not to discriminate unfairly against any subject of a criminal record check on the basis of a conviction or other information revealed.

KJV can only ask an individual to provide details of convictions and cautions that KJV are legally entitled to know about. Where a DBS certificate at either standard or enhanced level can legally be requested (where the position is one that is included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975 as amended, and where appropriate Police Act Regulations as amended).

KJV can only ask an individual about convictions and cautions that are not protected.

KJV is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependants, age, physical/mental disability or offending background.

KJV has a written policy on the recruitment of ex-offenders, which is made available to all DBS applicants at the start of the recruitment process.

KJV actively promotes equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records.

KJV select all candidates for interview based on their skills, qualifications and experience.

An application for a criminal record check is only submitted to DBS after a thorough risk assessment has indicated that one is both proportionate and relevant to the position concerned. For those positions where a criminal record check is identified as necessary, all application forms, job adverts and recruitment briefs will contain a statement that an application for a DBS certificate will be submitted in the event of the individual being offered the position.

KJV ensures that all those in KJV who are involved in the recruitment process have been trained to refer any questions of the relevance and circumstances of offences to the safeguarding lead.

KJV also ensures that the safeguarding lead will seek advice from suitable experts in the relevant legislation relating to the employment of ex-offenders, e.g. the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

At interview, or in a separate discussion, KJV ensures that an open and measured discussion takes place on the subject of any offences or other matter that might be relevant to the position. Failure to reveal information that is directly relevant to the position sought could lead to withdrawal of an offer of employment.

KJV makes every subject of a criminal record check submitted to DBS aware of the existence of the code of practice and makes a copy available on request.

KJV undertakes to discuss any matter revealed on a DBS certificate with the individual seeking the position before withdrawing a conditional offer of employment.
